Past Event Report

About Past Event:

The “3rd International Conference on Otorhinolaryngology”, held from November 27, 2023, to November 28, 2023, in Dubai, UAE, brought together a diverse gathering of professionals dedicated to advancing the field of Ear, Nose, and Throat (ENT care). With a focus on innovation, collaboration, and knowledge exchange, the conference aimed to explore the latest developments in the diagnosis and treatment of ENT disorders.

The conference organized by Scientex Conferences, featured a comprehensive program encompassing keynote presentations, interactive oral presentations, panel discussions, and networking opportunities. With participants from various continents, the event fostered a global exchange of ideas and expertise. Distinguished speakers, including Dr. Debashis Acharya, Dr. Kuo-Ping Chiu, and Dr. Alexander Aloy, delved into topics such as emerging technologies in cochlear implants, the role of immunotherapy in allergic rhinitis, and the future of telemedicine in ENT care. Panels, moderated by experts, addressed key issues such as global variations in ENT healthcare, the impact of precision medicine, and the integration of artificial intelligence in diagnosis. The conference welcomed over 50+ participants, including otorhinolaryngologists, audiologists, researchers, and medical students.

The Otorhinolaryngology 2023 conference achieved its objectives of fostering innovation, collaboration, and knowledge exchange in the field. The insights gained and connections formed during the event will undoubtedly contribute to advancing patient care and research in otorhinolaryngology. The organizing committee expresses gratitude to speakers, attendees, and volunteers for their invaluable contributions to the success of the conference.

With great pleasure in inviting the scientific community across the globe to the “4th International Conference on Otorhinolaryngology” on November 25-26, 2024 in Bangkok, Thailand.

Surpassing 10 million in population, Bangkok, Thailand's capital, is a cosmopolitan amalgamation of diverse cultures and faiths, seamlessly blending ancient traditions with modern influences from both the East and the West in its urban fabric. Evolving into an expansive metropolis, it features towering skyscrapers, luxurious five-star hotels, state-of-the-art shopping complexes, and a highly advanced international airport, complemented by a varied selection of enticing dining establishments. Additionally, the city offers a rich assortment of museums, historical landmarks, and temples, where temples and monasteries coexist harmoniously amidst grand architectural wonders. The juxtaposition of floating markets and street bazaars with upscale retail centers and malls vividly illustrates the city's multifaceted offerings.

Bangkok, a leading global tourist destination in Thailand, attracts a significant majority of international visitors due to its stunning architectural marvels, such as Wat Arun Ratchawararam and the Old Big Gun Museum. Notable outdoor attractions like Asiatique, located along the riverfront, cater to both culinary enthusiasts and fashion aficionados. The city's serene spots, including the Chatuchak Weekend Market and Phahurat Night Markets, provide a peaceful contrast to the opulence of prestigious department stores. The enduring popularity of Bangkok as a vacation spot is evident from the consistent growth in the number of travelers each year.
